Full of fun, this book is just the one to wile away the tediou rule of run, this book is just the one to who sway the tendous hours in reading many mishaps which have perhaps happened to ourselves, and which are pleasanter to read of than to endure. We will specify one or two:

"In attempting to spring carelessly, with the help of one hand, over a five-burred taxe, by way of showing your activity to a party of ladies behind you, (whom you affect not to have observed,) blurdering upon your nose on the other site.

"As you walk forth freshly and sprucely creased, receiving in full to fillty flittings of a wet broom.

"On coming down to a hasty breakfast, finding the last drop of water in your kettle boiling away, the toast in the ashes, and the cast just finishing the cream."

The head is full cityling of contents the cast in the sahes, and

This Number commences the TRIESTREET VOLUME and the SEVENTH YEAR OF HARFER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGRIERS, with the autraordinery issue of One Hundred and Sixty Thousand Copies. The Publishers have endeavored, by a well-directed use of the atundant resources at their command, to rander it not only the cheapest, but the most attractive and most useful Magazine for popular reading in the world; and the extent to which their efforts have been successful is indicated by the fact that it has attained a greater circulation than any similar policied ever lasted.

which the statished a greater circulation than any similar periodical ever issued.

Special efforts will be made to render it still more interesting and valuable during the coming year. The new volume commences with the present Number. No labor or expense will be present in every way, and in all its departments, still more worthy of the unparalleled favor with which it has been received. been received.

HARPER'S NEW MORTHLY MAGAZINE owes its success to the fact that is presents MORE reading matter, of a netter quality, is a MORE ELEGANT etyle, and at a CHEAPER rate than any

The publication of Mr. Dickeus's "Little Dorrit" was com-menced in the January Number of this Magazine. This charm-ing story is generally acknowledged to be the best of his pro-ductions, and occupies but about one tenth of each Number, and is issued to Subscribers at a cost of about TWO CENTS

"It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more entertaining friend than Harper's Magazine."

[Methodist Protestant, (Baltimore.)

"The most popular monthly in the world. It has become one of the literary wonders of this country. Almost exclusively composed of the works of American suthors and artists, it pays its countributors some twenty-five hundred dollars monthly. It is a happy circumstance that it aims at the highest standard of literature and the purset of morals in all its pages."

COURTH EDITION NOW READY. MARGARET FULLER OSSOLI: AT HOME AND ABROAD;

THINGS AND THOUGHTS IN AMERICA AND EUROPE.

By Margaret Feller Ossoll.

Edited by her Erother, Arthur B. Fuller. 1 vol., 12mo.

"The volume, we may venture to predict, will deserve to be clusted with the most acceptable books of travels of any country or see."

"It is one of the grandest contributions to American literature, and is the best tribute to the memory of the gifted author that could have been devised. All homor to the fraternal hand to which we see indebted for it. It opens with a lofty anthomore that could have been devised. All homor to the fraternal hand to which we see indebted for it. It opens with a lofty anthomore description of the way Nisgars impressed her-and it closes with a dirac-ber has letter to her mother on embarking on that fatal voyage. It is one of 'the books that are books."

"This partial record is full of deep fascination. In many signal respects Miss Fuller was the most extraordinary woman of her time, and in almost every one of these respects the shore work is imminous with interest. "We cannot too warmly recommend this volume to the loving attention of our resideration of the principal Booksellers.

Says The Home Journal, in an article comparing irring, Diebens and Thackersy with the author: "We timet we may not seem to go beyond the record of this colorie of American and English authors, if we rank among them, thus early, the same of Prederick S. Cerseau, the author of the Secretary of the sherewhere Papers." He possesses very many of the characteristic helonging for the shewer class of writers. There is in his presentation, the same as in theirs, that living underflow of good nature and good sense which infuses a sweetness and leveliness into all his language. Then he is mirthful without being forcedly withy, observant without being proy, teateful without being freedly without being instructional without being didactic, and, in fact, a model after a strong, instructional without being didactic, and, in fact, a model at the acme of perfection.
